UNITS SERVICED FOR 2014

Programs funded by United Way of Indiana County provided 4,218 units of service during the 2014 funding cycle.

United Way brings together people and organizations who care about Indiana County and are willing to share their expertise and resources to address the needs in their communities.

Everyone should have access to a good education that leads to stable employment, enough income to support a family and good health.

When children and families are successful, everyone in Indiana County benefits through a better-educated work force, stronger job opportunities, safer neighborhoods and less dependence on social services.

United Way is working in collaboration with other agencies in Indiana County to create lasting changes. Working together, we can build a stronger, healthier community.

That's what it means to LIVE UNITED.
